COVID-19 Impacts on BAR Programs and Services

While California continues to navigate the uncertainty of coronavirus (COVID-19) and limit its spread, the Bureau of Automotive Repair (BAR) is committed to supporting consumers, licensees, applicants, and our other stakeholders by maintaining delivery of our programs and services. BAR is closely monitoring the COVID-19 situation, coordinating with state and local governments, and working with our partners to protect the health of Californians.

The following information is intended to inform our stakeholders on important issues and impacts to BAR programs and services as a result of COVID-19. As the situation continues to evolve, additional information and updates will be made available.

Essential and Non-Essential Services

On March 19, Governor Newsom issued Executive Order N-33-20, directing all individuals living in California to stay at home, except as needed to maintain continuity of operations of the federal critical infrastructure sectors. The order refers to federal critical infrastructure sectors identified by the Cybersecurity & Infrastructure Security Agency and additional sectors designated by the State Public Health Officer as essential critical infrastructure workers to protect the health and well-being of all Californians.

We have received a number of inquiries concerning whether the licensed services and activities performed by BAR licensees are essential operations permitted under the order. The State Public Health Officer has designated automotive repair and maintenance facilities as essential workforce in the Transportation and Logistics Sector. In addition, auto supplies and repair is designated as essential workforce under other community-based government operations and essential functions.

BAR strongly encourages licensees to check with their local county health department to determine what activities are also considered essential and non-essential and whether your business should remain open. Licensees are also advised to follow the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's interim guidance for businesses and employers.

BAR Offices Closed to the Public

In response to the governor's order and other local directives, and to safeguard the health of our employees, BAR headquarters and field office locations are closed to the public until further notice. We continue to perform our business functions and appreciate your patience as we work on implementing new technologies to work remotely and adhere to social distancing guidelines. We apologize in advance for any delays in reaching our staff or potential delays in our processing times.

Online Resources for Our Stakeholders

We encourage our stakeholders to take advantage of online resources available at www.bar.ca.gov:

- Up-to-date information is available on our new COVID-19 Impacts to BAR Programs and Services page. Updates for consumers, licensees, and applicants will be added as additional information becomes available. (Editor's note: Effective October 21, 2022, this page has been archived and is no longer available.)

- Conduct a license search, find a station, file a complaint, renew a license, submit a Consumer Assistance Program application, and more. Our online services are always available.
- Review the Automotive Repair Act and related laws and regulations online. BAR licensees have a responsibility and an obligation to comply with these requirements at all times.
- Learn about documentation options to promote social distancing in transactions between licensees and consumers. BAR's Write It Right guide provides valuable information to help licensees incorporate electronic estimates and invoices and electronic or telephonic authorizations into their business operations.
- Visit our Contact Us page. Find contact information for our programs and services, including the Consumer Information Center, BAR Industry Help Desk, field offices, Licensing Program, and more.

We appreciate your cooperation and patience during this challenging time, and remain committed to serving Californians through continued and adaptable regulation of the automotive repair and Smog Check industry.

Safety and Recall Information to be Added to BAR-OIS

Unaddressed vehicle safety recalls may adversely affect drivability and may lead to an increased chance of serious injury or death during a collision. Examples of vehicle safety systems that could be impacted are brakes, airbags, and advanced driver assistance systems. Vehicle manufacturers attempt to notify vehicle owners, but many recalls are not addressed even though repairs are offered at no cost. To improve consumer protection, the Bureau of Automotive Repair (BAR) is working to update the BAR On-Board Diagnostic Inspection System (BAR-OIS) to display and print safety recalls.

Upon implementation of this update later this year, the BAR-OIS will use the vehicle identification number to retrieve vehicle-specific recall information from the Vehicle Recall Search Service. The real-time service, jointly developed by Carfax and the Alliance for Automotive Innovation, returns one of the following results: recalls, no recalls found, or no recalls found because the vehicle manufacturer is not participating. Recall information provided includes the recall date, campaign number, and a description of the recall to aid in repair. The recall results are displayed to the Smog Check inspector and are also printed on the vehicle inspection report, a copy of which is provided to the consumer. This service covers all but a few small vehicle manufacturers who are not participating.

Earlier this year, BAR also joined the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) and other states in a campaign to inform consumers of important steps to follow to ensure their recalled vehicle is repaired. BAR is committed to enhancing outreach aimed at positively influencing safety recall rates and protecting consumers in California.

For additional information on safety recalls and repairing recalled vehicles, visit NHTSA's website at www.nhtsa.gov.

Cal ID and CVN Detect Programming Modifications

Illegal modifications to a vehicle's emission controls can dramatically impact the amount of pollution the vehicle generates. This is true not only for modifications to physical components (e.g., air intake, catalytic converter) but also for modifications to the software controlling the vehicle's engine controller (e.g., computer). Programming modifications can be detected using the vehicle's calibration identification (Cal ID) and calibration verification number (CVN), which together uniquely identify the software program installed on the computer. The Cal ID is the name of the program assigned by the vehicle manufacturer. The CVN is a unique numeric code calculated based upon the computer program. Whenever a computer's program is modified, a new CVN will automatically be generated that will differ from the one originally associated with the Cal ID.

Over the past year, the Bureau of Automotive Repair (BAR) has been extensively studying Cal ID and CVN and working with the California Air Resources Board (ARB), vehicle manufacturers, Smog Check industry representatives, and BAR Advisory Group members to gather input and develop an implementation plan. In accordance with California Code of Regulations, title 16, section 3340.42.2(c)(8), beginning July 2020, BAR will implement Cal ID and CVN checks for most model-year 2000 and newer vehicles as part of the On-Board Diagnostic Smog Check inspection failure criteria. Owners of vehicles identified with unapproved programming modifications will need to restore the computer to either stock or ARB-approved software in order to pass a Smog Check inspection.

New Referee Scheduling Software

The Smog Check Referee Program provides resources such as Smog Check inspection review and specialized inspection services for engine changes, engine noise, and repair cost waivers. The program also plays an important role in preventing fraudulent Smog Check inspections through certificate blocking and inspection of vehicles with irregular data. Vehicles referred due to suspicious inspection activity must be certified at a referee station before having future inspections performed at a licensed Smog Check station.

The Foundation for California Community Colleges (FCCC), which administers the Smog Check Referee Program, and the Bureau of Automotive Repair (BAR) are working together to improve efficiency of referee stations by streamlining inspection processes and optimizing resource usage. On January 13, 2020, FCCC implemented new scheduling and communication software. The software tracks information such as required documentation, time spent interacting with consumers while setting up appointments, and time required to perform different inspection operations. This allows resources to be allocated to provide efficient inspections without compromising the quality of the inspections or the consumer experience. Refinements will continue to be made, but BAR anticipates a significant increase in efficiency of referee stations with the new scheduling software.

For additional information about the services offered by referee stations, visit the Referee Program page at www.bar.ca.gov.

Roadside Emissions Data Collection

The Bureau of Automotive Repair (BAR) established the Roadside Inspection Program, as provided in Health and Safety Code section 44081, to audit the emissions of vehicles being driven on California roadways. The program is conducted with assistance from the California Highway Patrol (CHP). Data collected during roadside surveys serves as a baseline and helps the state measure its progress towards meeting federal emission reductions standards. This data also provides useful information to evaluate and improve the overall performance of the Smog Check Program.

Roadside surveys are performed in areas of the state with the poorest air quality or that contribute to other areas with poor air quality, including the Central Valley, San Francisco Bay Area, greater Los Angeles area, Inland Empire, and San Diego area. Participation in the program is voluntary and there are no consequences to consumers, regardless of the vehicle's emission levels or state of its emission control systems.

The Roadside Inspection Program was recently expanded to include model-year 2016 vehicles to ensure the most current and accurate data is collected. Various safety enhancements have also been implemented, including restructuring the survey lane setup, to ensure the safety of all participants including BAR, CHP, and the motoring public. More information is available on the Roadside Inspection Program page at www.bar.ca.gov.

DocuSign in Gas Audit Inspections

The Bureau of Automotive Repair (BAR) conducts routine audits and inspections of stations across the state to verify the proper functionality and accuracy of emissions testing equipment used in the Smog Check Program. In November 2019, BAR began offering Smog Check stations the option to electronically sign and receive documents related to their gas audit inspections through DocuSign. Upon completion of a gas audit, documents are emailed to the licensee(s) and the BAR program representative for electronic signature. The electronic signatures can be completed on any computer or mobile device with just a few clicks. When the digital signatures are complete, final electronic copies of the documents are sent to all parties.

DocuSign streamlines the audit process, provides electronic copies of records, reduces environmental impacts, and is offered at no cost to BAR licensees. Smog Check stations are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity. BAR is also reviewing the expansion of DocuSign to other business processes.

For more information on Smog Check station audits and inspections, visit the Certifying and Maintaining Equipment page at www.bar.ca.gov.

Smog Check Repair-Only Stations

Smog Check repair-only stations are licensed to diagnose and repair vehicles. An automotive repair dealer (ARD) that would like to perform emissions-related repairs but is not interested in performing Smog Check inspections can become a licensed Smog Check repair-only station. Over 2,000 Smog Check test-only stations perform Smog Check inspections, many of which fail because of emissions control component failures accompanied by an illuminated malfunction indicator light. This creates a demand for stations that can perform the necessary emissions-related repairs. In addition, consumers are encouraged to address an illuminated malfunction indicator light irrespective of the vehicle's Smog Check inspection due date. Smog Check repair-only stations can perform the general automotive repairs of an ARD but can also perform emissions-related repairs.

Becoming a licensed Smog Check repair-only station requires an application and fee, diagnostic and hand tools, and an employee who is a licensed Smog Check repair technician. Additional information for becoming a Smog Check repair-only station is available under the Licensees tab at www.bar.ca.gov.

What to Expect During a Station Inspection

Bureau of Automotive Repair (BAR) program representatives routinely visit automotive repair and Smog Check facilities for various reasons, but many of the visits involve performing an initial or periodic inspection.

Initial inspections are required for new brake, lamp, and Smog Check stations or if a currently licensed station changes location. The program representative will verify the facility has the required equipment, tools, signs, manuals, and approved work area. The program representative will also verify that a licensed technician(s) is employed for the type of license for which the facility is applying. Once the facility passes the initial inspection, BAR's Licensing Program will be notified so that the application review process can be completed, and the license activated upon application approval.

Periodic inspections provide a great opportunity for BAR to communicate with facilities and ensure that automotive repair dealers (ARDs) and brake, lamp, and Smog Check stations are performing licensed activities in accordance with applicable laws and regulations. These inspections are also an opportunity to ask the program representative any questions you may have regarding procedures or how laws and regulations apply to the licensed activities you perform.

During a periodic inspection, the owner or Responsible Managing Employee (RME) may be required to provide estimates, invoices, brake and lamp certificate books, or other documents for duplication or review. The program representative will often have you confirm the calibration of test equipment and will verify that required tools, manuals, signs, and BAR publications are present. The program representative will also verify that all station and technician licenses are current and properly displayed. If any deficiencies are noted during the inspection, you will be asked to correct them. A follow-up visit may occur, or you may be asked to submit proof of correction in the form of a receipt for equipment service or the purchase of required tools/signs.

The program representative will document the initial or periodic inspection, including any deficiencies, on a Station Inspection Report (SIR). Using DocuSign (see related DocuSign in Gas Audit Inspections article), the facility will have the option of signing and receiving a copy of the SIR electronically.

Visits to facilities are one of BAR's most effective tools to meet our statutory mandates and achieve our mission. If any questions or concerns about a BAR inspection are not resolved by the program representative, you may contact the supervisor at the local field office for assistance. Your cooperation allows us to perform an inspection with minimal disruption to your business and supports our common goals to improve air quality and ensure a fair and competitive automotive repair marketplace for California consumers.

Complaint Mediation Process

Each year, the Bureau of Automotive Repair (BAR) mediates approximately 18,000 consumer complaints. The goal is to address any consumer concerns regarding an automotive repair transaction, mediate a fair resolution, and educate the automotive repair dealer (ARD) on their responsibilities under the Automotive Repair Act. BAR's role as a complaint mediator is to act as a neutral third party focused on achieving a fair resolution based upon the facts of the repair transaction.

Consumers are encouraged to communicate concerns to the ARD's management, as noted in the ARD sign that is required in every facility. However, if all attempts at resolution are unsuccessful, a complaint can be filed to request BAR's assistance. Complaints can be submitted to BAR online, by mail, by telephone, or in person at a BAR field office. BAR reviews and acknowledges all complaints. Complaints within BAR's jurisdiction are forwarded to the appropriate field office for assignment to a program representative for mediation. The program representative will review the complaint, contact the consumer, and gather any necessary documentation pertaining to the complaint. The program representative may need to inspect the consumer's vehicle. The program representative then will contact the ARD to gather further information and attempt to resolve the consumer's issue. The program representative will keep both parties informed throughout the complaint mediation process.

The consumer's complaint and the mediation efforts are recorded in a complaint report. All complaint reports are placed in the ARD's master file and may be subpoenaed by either party to a small claims court or other civil action. Information on the small claims court subpoena process is available on the Records Request Guidelines page at www.bar.ca.gov.

If violations of the Automotive Repair Act are identified during the complaint mediation process, the program representative will determine the appropriate action to be taken. BAR may educate the ARD, especially if the violation relates to estimate or invoice requirements, or BAR may hold an office conference at the local field office. If BAR identifies an egregious violation of the Automotive Repair Act, such as fraud or an action that may threaten the safety of consumers, the complaint may be elevated to a formal investigation and the possible filing of a disciplinary action against the registrant or licensee.

All BAR complaints are mediated with the primary goal of obtaining a fair and appropriate resolution for both parties. Each year, BAR negotiates approximately $5 million in direct refunds, bill adjustments, and no-charge rework to the vehicle for California consumers. BAR also uses the complaint mediation process to educate ARDs on the Automotive Repair Act to help avoid future complaints and promote consumer confidence in their next repair transaction.

New Consumer Assistance Program Webpage Launched

In January 2020, the Bureau of Automotive Repair launched an updated Consumer Assistance Program \(CAP\) webpage. The webpage features a new design to improve usability and access to important program information allowing consumers to make a more informed decision about retiring or repairing their vehicle. Application information has been simplified into step-by-step instructions and consumers can now determine income eligibility before submitting their application using an income eligibility calculator. Consumers can also check their application status online and obtain information on when program eligibility determinations have been made. The update is part of BAR's ongoing effort to improve and enhance its online services and accessibility for consumers, industry, and other key stakeholders.

Cars for Schools Program Update

The Bureau of Automotive Repair's (BAR) new Cars for Schools program repurposes vehicles retired through the Consumer Assistance Program to provide students in automotive technical training classes with additional hands-on learning opportunities. The program provides up to 350 vehicles annually to public high schools, community colleges, and regional occupational programs throughout the state.

"Cars for Schools leverages limited state resources for a meaningful cause that will help train the next generation of automotive technicians," says BAR Chief Patrick Dorais. "This program should prove to be beneficial for both educators and students. We are thrilled to be in a position to facilitate the redirection of these vehicles for training purposes before they are crushed and permanently retired from service."

On January 6, 2020, the Cars for Schools program transferred its first retired vehicle to College of the Sequoias for use in their automotive technical training courses. By mid-February, the program had provided twelve vehicles to schools in different areas of California. These included gasoline-powered and hybrid vehicles with model years ranging from 1989 to 2008. The program continues to receive applications from schools interested in participating.

Additional information is available on the Cars for Schools Program page at www.bar.ca.gov. Educators seeking more information may contact the Cars for Schools program by phone at \(866\) 361-3933 or by email at carsforschools@dca.ca.gov.

Legislation Update

Several legislative proposals that could affect the automotive repair industry have been introduced this year. Given the nature of the legislative process, the Bureau of Automotive Repair (BAR) recommends contacting your trade association or visiting www.leginfo.legislature.ca.gov for further information regarding these proposals.

To learn about future opportunities for public participation, or for additional information on legislation, visit the About BAR page at www.bar.ca.gov.

Regulations Update

Rehabilitation and Substantial Relationship Criteria

As required by Assembly Bill (AB) 2138 (Chiu, Chapter 995, Statutes of 2018), BAR has developed proposed regulations that seek to reduce barriers to licensure for individuals with prior criminal convictions, which may reduce recidivism, and provide economic opportunity to California residents. In addition, the proposal seeks to improve clarity, transparency, and consistency for applicants, registrants, and licensees in BAR's use of criminal histories. Further, by reducing barriers to licensure, BAR anticipates benefits to consumers who may have greater access to licensed professionals.

The Notice of Proposed Regulatory Action was published in the Notice Register on February 21, 2020, initiating the public comment period.

Documents and additional information related to the proposal are available on the Regulatory Actions page at www.bar.ca.gov.

Follow the Bureau Online

The Bureau of Automotive Repair (BAR) is online. The website's user-friendly design allows licensees and the automotive repair industry to easily find the information they are looking for. Click on the "Industry" tab on the home page to quickly access ET Blasts, STAR information, licensing information, and more. Need a form or application? All BAR documents can now be accessed through the "Documents" tab.

Check out our website at www.bar.ca.gov and keep up with BAR on Facebook and Twitter @BARinfo.

BAR Employment Opportunities

The Bureau of Automotive Repair (BAR) hires program representatives throughout the state to enforce the laws and regulations governing automotive repair and Smog Check services. If you are interested in working for BAR, please visit the Job Opportunities page at www.bar.ca.gov to review examination requirements and job announcement postings
